

AXIS XP120

The XP120 by Axis, redefines elegance and functionality in fireplace design. With its cutting-edge internal cast iron liners, this fireplace ensures optimal heat retention while exuding timeless charm. The tapered base eliminates the necessity for a log pan, simplifying maintenance and enhancing its sleek profile.

Crafted with high quality materials and workmanship, it promises durability and reliability for years to come. The striking blackline glass further enhances its contemporary appeal, making the AXIS XP120 a seamless blend of innovation and sophistication for any modern living space.
